

Processing Community Survey 2022 Privacy Policy

By taking part in this survey you agree that we will process your data in line with the present privacy policy. We respect your trust and protect your privacy and therefore will never sell or share this data with any third parties.

Information we collect

This survey is anonymous (we will not ask for your name, email address, or social media handles) but note that it may still be possible to identify you from your responses to demographic questions within the survey (languages spoken, country of residence, age, etc).

How we collect information

The system that we use to collect your information is provided by Google LLC (via Google Forms). The data will be subsequently stored on Google servers in the US. You can find out more about how Google LLC treat your personal data here: <https://policies.google.com/privacy>.

Lawful basis for processing of your data

User consent: By taking this survey, you give us explicit permission to process personal information for the purpose of user research. You have the right to withdraw this consent at any time. You can manage your replies via the Google Form interface or by contacting us by e-mail at survey@processing.org.

Data retention

We will securely store this data until the end of the research period. After this all identifiable data will be deleted.

Research publication

Results from the study will be shared with the public. Any demographic data will be aggregated and no identifying data will be published. Written answers may be used as testimonials/quotes. In this case, any identifying data such as people/place names will be modified to preserve the anonymity of respondents.

Your rights

You may access, modify, or delete your data at any time. If you used one of our Google Forms, you can follow the same link to access, modify, or delete your data. If you took the survey by e-mail, please contact us (from the same e-mail address if possible) at survey@processing.org
